CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Nothing of importance transpired at the headquarters of the Georgia rebels yesterday. Contributions were received from circles in the country. It was stated that private information had been received to the effect that Sir Frederick Baker had been ordered to allow no more news of the Yankee rising to be forwarded over the cable.

The Senate of the Brotherhood, Roberts party, has been called together by Vice President James Gibbons.

The Brooklyn Navy Yard has been reduced to a peace footing and all of the departments put in order.

Naval officers say that the Dunderberg is not as formidable as our turreted monitors, and point to the capture of the Atlantic and Tennessee, which are types of the Dunderberg, as proofs of their assertion.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Fire Insurance Companies, it was resolved that where the doors and windows of buildings located in streets less than fifty feet in width were so constructed as to admit of their being opened from the outside in case of emergency, a deduction of ten cents may be made from the standard rate.

The Herald's Atlanta correspondent reports that the prejudice against negro outrages in Georgia is gradually giving way. The people were anxious to have the reconstruction question settled, so that some capital could flow into the State and develop its mineral and other interests.

A match was made yesterday between Sam Collyer and Barney Aaron to fight in June next for the championship and three thousand dollars.

The Times' special says: The famous suits of Russell, Major and Wadde, creditors, against the United States, known as the Floyd securities suits, are about to come up again in the Supreme Court.

General Fuller and H. M. Pitt, known as editors of the New York News, have been examined by the Judiciary Committee regarding their lack of knowledge of the impeachment charges.

The former testified regarding the Steedman-Fuller Bureau investigation.

Colonel L. O. Turner, long known as Judge Advocate of the War Department, is lying dangerously ill from a stroke of apoplexy, and may not live till morning.

The Tribune's special corrects its statement that the name of General Hutton had been sent to as Marshal for New York. No nomination for that position has yet been made. There is a great rivalry for the Marshalship in Louisiana, and it is not likely that the name of Hutton will be put forward.

The office of the office are increased to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars per annum by the passage of the Bankrupt act, with fees attached.

It is probable that the gold claimed by the Richmond banks, now in the Treasury, belonging originally to the General Government, and was captured in the early part of the rebellion by the rebels while in the vaults.

Col. Taylor, ex-Member of Congress from Tennessee, has been nominated as Indian Commissioner in place of Boggs, rejected. It is thought that he will be elected.

The Herald's special says: The expedition against the hostile Indians of Kansas and Nebraska, under the command of Maj. Gen. Hancock, is fully supplied with provisions and will start from Fort Leavenworth on the 10th. Gen Hancock orders all troops to be organized for defense by electing a captain and other officers, and organizing the teams and companies, and all others belonging to the train into one or more companies. No trains are to be allowed to pass into the Indian country which number less than twenty wagons and thirty armed men.
All troops are to be organized for defense, and any train pursuing the overland route, the commanding officer of the nearest military post is directed to furnish prompt assistance.

The Democratic State Convention, lately nominated for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Benjamin M. Green; Regents of the University, William M. Ferry, Jr., and Ebenezer Wells.

Resolutions were adopted denouncing the reconstruction bill, declaring the enforcement of negroes and the disfranchisement of whites unconstitutional, arbitrary and revolutionary.
Henry J. Pervezal corresponded with the editorial by taking strong ground, and domestic troubles.

LOUISVILLE, March 14.
The river rose 0.4 inches during the last seventeen hours and is very nearly stationary now.
It was within 2.4 inches of the stage of 1857 and 2.5 inches of the stage of 1852.

CINCINNATI, March 14.
The river has risen 11 inches; 35 feet 5 inches of water in the channel. Weather clear; thermometer 20 degrees—wind from the north; barometer 30.5.

CAIRO, March 14.
The officers of the steamer Rockford, just from Arkansas River, report the country over-flooded, with great loss of property and suffering of the inhabitants. The river is now at least 10 miles from the flood—mostly freedmen.

The steamer Peter Buller was damaged by running into the bank at Red Fork. She lost a part of her cargo, one soldier and one deck hand.

New York, March 14.
At a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Southern Family Relief Commission this afternoon the following were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Southern Family Relief Commission is advised by Major General Howard not to relax its efforts in obtaining contributions for the relief of the Southern people, it is resolved that the proposed appropriation by Congress, the destitution being so widespread and appealing as to demand all that can be done for its relief; therefore,

Resolved, That the Commission earnestly request citizens of all denominations throughout the Northern States to join in a simultaneous appeal for contributions on Sunday next, the 17th.

The Express states that a determined attempt was made last night by a lawyer named Daniel McFarland to murder Alfred D. Rouns, the son of the late Judge Rouns, who was in the city, but that McFarland was captured by Richardson's attention to his wife, who is an actress belonging to the Winter Garden company. Richardson was for five or six weeks occupied in a room in Mc-Farland's house, in Amy street. Yesterday at 10 o'clock last night, as Richardson and the lady were walking down Amy street, the latter husband came up behind them and fired three shots at Richardson, who retorted, one of which hit him, lodging in the groin. A police officer seized McFarland and took him to the station house. Richardson was taken to his room, where the ball was extracted, and is now removed to the residence of Samuel Shuler.

structing the Committee on Pensions to inquire into the expediency of putting pensions granted by special acts of Congress on the same footing as pensions granted under the general laws.

Mr. Trumbull called up the supplementary Reconstruction bill, which was referred at length.

Mr. Drake said he had several amendments to offer. The first was to insert in the third section a provision that at the elections provided for in the preceding sections, the registered voters of each State shall vote on the question of whether a State Convention and forming a Constitution. Those in favor of the Convention shall have written or printed on their ballots, "For a Convention," those opposed shall have written or printed on their ballots, "Against a Convention." The persons appointed to superintend the elections shall make returns of the votes, for or against. The Commanding General, who shall be the chief officer of the election, shall ascertain the total vote, and if a majority of the whole number of those in any State shall have voted for such Convention, it shall be held; if a majority shall have voted against a Convention, no such Convention shall be held.
